

Vision Board: "Buttery Brook Under Our Feet"

Bloomberg Philanthropies has funded large-scale city projects in places including Columbus, OH (left), Durham, NC (right), and the Green Lake Dragonfly in Seattle, WA (below).

"Nepenthes Paisleyi" by Dan Corson. Portland, OR. Temporary "Markers" highlighting the street as a vibrant walking corridor and connector. The "Markers" light up at night, slowing changing colors. It is designed so that people driving by will not see the changes in patterns, yet if they drive by 10 minutes later they will see a different aspect to the project.

"Lost Stream Found" by Jill Anholt in North Vancouver, BC celebrates the resurfacing of a hidden stream's journey: rising out of a dry creek bed on the site and twisting and turning dynamically in the air before disappearing back below the surface.
